Organization A Plaintext message to B Encrypted using B's public key Encrypted message to B Transmitted through network Organization B Encrypted message to B Decrypted using B's private key Plaintext message to B

PKE Operations

1

B makes its public key widely available (i.e. through the Internet)

No security hole is created by distributing the public key, since B's private key has never been distributed.